

Business rules

- 1 customer can have different services
- 1 service can be offered to different customers
- 1 pet can be assigned different employees
- 1 employee can get assigned different pets

Scenario 5 - Pet Sitting Service Company

A local company is starting that will provide pet sitting services for the local community. This company will provide in-house and daily pet sitting services for dogs, cats, fish, birds and reptiles. Each of their employees is insured and are certified pet care specialists.

The company needs to track the following employee information, employee name, and address, pet types certified to support, hourly rate and availability. Information about the pet owner needs to be track, including pet owner name, address, billing information, and phone number. The pet information includes pet type, pet name, pet medications, pet likes and dislikes. The company needs to track the pet sitting requirements for each pet, including in-house or number of visits per day, total number of days for pet sitting order, special requirements for pet.

In addition any special pet food, treats or information needs to be track about each pet. Each pet owner can have one or more pets.